The flashing yellow lights of Mississippi Department of Transportation trucks, blue lights of state troopers, and red flags of SCI flagmen were all very evident Tuesday with the transition of Highway 603/43 from two to four lanes.

In less than 24 hours, state troopers issued nearly 200 citations for a variety of violations, MSgt. David Kenny said Wednesday.

"We want people to enjoy driving on Highway 603 and be safe as they drive," added MSgt. Kenny, who is the state trooper in charge of the enforcement division for Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River

The much anticipated opening of Highway 603 to four lanes finally came with little fanfare on Tuesday morning. Workers simply removed the orange barrels that have guided traffic for the last few years. The project was been hampered by work stoppages and lawsuits. State troopers are heavily patroling the highway, and issued nearly 200 citations in less than 24 hours. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

Political clashes mar Bay Council

BY MARY G. SEILEY

In a meeting marred by divisive political clashes, Bay St. Louis City Council appointed two new Planning and Zoning commissioners Tuesday.

Council also set a special meeting to attempt to hammer out differences among themselves concerning the long-discussed proposed comprehensive plan for the city.

Mayor Eddie Favre's two appointments to the commission, Stanley Beauregard and Bobby Heitzman, were confirmed in a 3-2 vote, after a move to postpone action failed.

Council members Charles Scianna and James Thriffiley said they wanted to delay action on the matter to give council time to confirm that the appointees are dedicated to

But, the mayor said he still intends to have the city take over monthly billing and collections, and wants to get final costs on turning over the rest of the operations to a local firm.

The city's second contract extension with ECO Resources Inc., expires March 31, but McDonald says he might have to give the firm another "90 days until we get all our ducks in a row."

In the meantime, McDonald said ECO's vice president of finance, David Whitaker, has agreed to pay the city between $30,000 and $40,000 in back rent, which the city claims it is owed.

The mayor discovered that ECO had been using the city annex building for its billing and collecting and storing equipment at the city barn without paying any monthly rental fee, although it was supposed to under the contract signed with the city.

McDonald focused his attention on ECO Resources because he said he became alarmed "at the escalating charges for services and new equipment" in invoices it had submitted to the

For 'right price' Jubilation on market

If someone came along with the right price, they probably could purchase the Jubilation Casino from the Alpha Hospitality Corporation, Tom Aro, chief executive officer indicated late Wednesday. However, Aro did add, "We have no buyer in the wings, or anyone in hot pursuit at this time to buy the Jubilation."

A story appearing in the Jackson Clarion-Ledger Monday reported Alpha has advertised the Jubilation Casino at Bayou Caddy for sale in a gaming trade publication.

Aro said, "We were approached about two months ago by three parties if the casino was for sale, of which two we felt were serious and one not."

This all happened about the time the Jubilation reopend at Bayou Caddy.

Aro indicated the two inquiries could lead to an excellent way to protect the assests of the parent coporation, and they need to explore all alternatives.

He said the Jubliation is cutting its niche in the business and is doing about what they had expected, but since it has been opened only a few months, it is hard to know what that niche should be.

The Jackson paper reported the blind ad only states "Casino for Sale Mississippi Gulf Coast." But a prospectus sent to interested parties and obtained by The Clarion-Ledger is on Aipha Hospitality Corp. stationary.

The prospectus said the purchase price would be $15 million, which includes $11 million of debt, the same figure stated in the ad that ran in International Gaming & Wagering Business," the paper

Alpha placed the smaller Jubilation (formerly The Cotton Club) at the Bayou Caddy site late last year after moving the Jubilee to Greenwood.

Hancock County Tax Collector Eddie Murtagh on Wednesday said he has been in contact with Jackson Attorney Sam Keys since the article appeared saying the Jubilation may be up

Murtagh said, "I was really suprised to read the story as everyone I have spoken to said they were here to stay. They have spent a lot of money in the area and I would sure hate to see them leave."

Before the boats switched locations, Alpha Hospitality put up a bond for 1994 and 1995 taxes on the Jubilee.

The 1994 taxes have since been paid and the 1995 taxes are now due, and costing them $3,000 a month, Murtagh said.

Additionally Hancock County receives gaming fees from the casino which are distributed to the sheriff's department, county school district, fire protection portion is also put into a special gaming account and set aside for property tas reductions.

CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

A word to the wise for those who travel Highway 603. State troopers are "everywhere" and are issuing traffic citations right and left for violations.

The four lanes are now open and State Trooper Master Sergeant David Kenny, in charge of the enforcement division for the district, reports additional troopers will be patrolling the four-lane section 24 hours a day.

More than 200 citations were issued in less than 24 hours after the four-lane opening.

Kenny said the speed limit is 55 mph and not 65. In other words, the 55 mph speed limit will be enforced. Kenny emphasized the fact that state troopers want people to enjoy driving on 603 and be safe as they drive. It was sure good Tuesday morning to drive on Highway 603 with the four lanes now in service.

It is that time of year again for the youngsters to get ready for the annual Easter Party and Egg Hunt, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit and Post

The Easter Party and Egg Hunt is scheduled for Sat., Mar. 23 (rain-out date is Sat, Mar. 30) and is to begin following the Easter Parade at about 2:30 p.m at the Bay St. Louis City Park, 300 South Second St.

The Easter Parade, sponsored by local businesses in cooperation with the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre in celebration of its 50th anniversary.

At 12:30 Saturday, several community pastors will give brief meanings of Easter at the intersection of Highway 90 and Beach Boulevard, (Casino Magic property), and also two coral groups are to sing.

The parade follows beginning at 1 p.m. and will travel from the bridge down Beach Boulevard to Main Street; Main to Second Street; Second to the Bay St. Louis City Park (old City Hall).

Several floats are scheduled for the parade, and there will be costume characters, too.

The Easter Party will have games for children, ages one through nine, with prizes and candy donated by local merchants.

The eggs are being donated by members of The American Legion Auxiliary with help from local groceries and restaurants.

The Easter Bunny, Mickey Mouse and other surprises will be on hand for the big event.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) volunteers will also help with egg boiling and dying.

All children wishing to have their picture taken with the Easter Bunny will be given one free picture, compliments of the City of Bay St. Louis and photographer Jimmy Loiacano. The photos will be available several lavs after the event.

I remember the big gala Easter Party and Egg Hunt from last year and the fun for the youngsters. By the way, they will be accepting cash donations to benefit Hancock's new Hope Haven, an interim shelter for abandoned and abused children.

So I hope to see all the youngsters at the Easter Parade and Egg Hunt Saturday.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present Thornton Wilder's Pulitizer-prize-winning play, Our Town on Friday and Saturday, March 23, 24, 29 and 30.

Ted Stechmann, an old hand at the Little Theatre, is director. Stechmann has appeared in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre productions since 1957.

The playhouse opens at 7:30 p.m. each night with curtain time at 8 p.m. Tickets are $7.50 at the door. Betty Stechmann and Carol Kerr are co-producers and set designers for the repraisal of Our Town. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, and members are making every effort to make this a banner year for theatre goers. So, don't forget the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's production of Our Town this or next weekend.

LEGISLATURE TAKES ACTION AGAINST STREET GANGS, JUVENILE CRIME

Street gangs could stand to lose gang property if their members commit felonies. A bill passed by the House this past week will allow the government to file civil action against street gangs if their members are involved in felonies.

By enabling the government to confiscate gang property, such as cars or crackhouses, we can begin to break the back of the organized street crime that has hold on many of our state's

This law is so sweeping that it would allow Mississippi to sue a street gang headquarters in California if their gang members commit felonies in Mississippi.

The money recovered from these suits will be used for prevention of juvenile crime, and educating people about the growing threat of street gangs in our community.

Also this week the House dealt with legislation that would stop the Mississippi Highway Patrol from using quotas to encourage officers to write speeding tickets. This was done when Senate Bill 3087 was amended to stop this practice.

The cook-off, to benefit the American Cancer Society, will be Monday, Mar. 25, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Our Lady of The Gulf Catholic Church Community Center, Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis. Some 30 entries will be vying for "Top Bean." Tickets are $6 each and will be available at the door. Bay St. Louis supermarkets Winn-Dixie donated the bread, and Jitney Jungle donated the rice for the benefit cook-off.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial From Mississippi Economic Council

The Good Deeds directory

Mississippi charities have come up with a new method of fund raising.

Get it from the taxpayer. In this legislative session there are numerous bills requesting authority for specific counties and municipalities to donate public funds to various charities and specialinterest groups. State law requires legislative action before a county or municipality can hand over your tax dollars. But, once the "local and private" legislation is introduced, it's just a formality to get passage. The causes read like a Good Deeds directory. In just one legislative day Harrison County wanted permission to donate to the Mississippi AIDS Task Force, the Coastal Family Health Center, the Gulf Coast Arts Council, the Multiple Sclerosis Society and the Community Action Agency.

Marshall County wanted to cut a check to the Institute of Community Services Inc.

And, each day the list grows. The legitimacy of the organizations is not the question. The

Hancock juror appalled about courthouse smoking

Dear Editor,

I was summoned and appeared at the Hancock County Courthouse yesterday afternoon for jury selection. While the overall experience was as interesting as I had hoped, and the staff very friendly and courteous, I was stunned to find that in 1996 this county/public building still allows smoking throughout its corridors.

I was one of approximately 60 potential jurors and at each recess we were requested to wait outside the courtroom. As most people know, this courthouse is fairly small and 60 people can make the halls quite congested, and all around me, upstairs and downstairs, smokers were lighting up.

A couple of times during the afternoon, I found the smoke to be overwhelming and had to go outdoors to enjoy a smoke-free environment. The fact that I am seven months pregnant only served to aggravate the

I must confess that I myself am a reformed smoker, but I have always felt that smoking was inappropriate in the workplace, as well as in the majority of public buildings, excluding, of course casinos and bars, etc.

I have also worked in the legal profession for several years and therefore have visited many courthouses, both in Mississippi and other states. This was the first courthouse I have ever been in that allows smoking throughout its corridors.

In my opinion, overflowing ashtrays and clouds of cigarette smoke are not appropriate in any county or public workplace, and a non-smoker should never feel the need to exit a county or public building to escape offensive cigarette smoke.

This is not 1976, it is 1996, and Hancock County needs to get with the program.

Sincerely yours, Leslie Arcement Hancock County

Waveland resident disputes letter from Pass neighbor

To the Editor: On March 5, Mr. Jerry Ladner and Mr. Tom Williams appeared before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to convey their concerns about Standard Landfill, among other

In reference to Mr. Roy Stoddard's letter to The Sea Coast Echo on March 14 - I was present at this meeting and the facts are as follows.

Mr. Ladner and Mrs. Williams were treated fairly and respectfully by the entire Hancock County Board of Supervisors, including the board president, Mr. Philip Moran, and by everyone present at that meeting.
Mr. Moran did not say "It's now time for Tom and Jerry." Mr. Moran did not "physically toss" Mr. Ladner's letter. Mr. Moran did not say to Mr. Lad-"You read it."

Mr. Ladner did ask Mr. Moran to read aloud a letter he stated was from the Department of Environmental Quality. Mr. Moran did hand this leter back to Mr. Ladner. The fact of the matter is that Mr. Moran had no knowledge of the contents of this letter. Also, Mr. Moran was not offered an opportunity to review this document prior to reading it aloud.

Public officials cannot be expected to read aloud to the public any piece of paper someone presents to them. Mr. Williams, who attended the meeting with Mr. Ladner, and who was also at the conference table, was able to and did read the letter aloud for Mr. Ladner. Therefore, it was not as if there was no one else present who could read this letter aloud for Mr. Ladner.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and other public officials who were present at this meeting listened attentively and courteously to Mr. Ladner's entire presentation. This included an overview of the purpose of his organization (Hancock County Citizens for Good Government), his problems with the Hancock County Grand Jury system, his worries about the lack of a college campus in Hancock County, and his concerns about Standard Landfill.

The supervisors asked questions, answered questions, and explained the courses of action that would be taken about Standard Landfill in a courteous and equitable manner.

Anyone in Hancock County who would like to get an accurate picture of how the supervisors behave towards people should regularly attend these meetings as I have. They will see, as I have, that the entire board of supervisors uniformly treats every person who appears before them in a gracious and respectful manner.

Sincerely, Sibyl Carolyn Carver Waveland

Reader offers praises for Waveland postmaster

Dear Editor:

I finished reading your special salute to professional women. I would like to thank you. I do not necessarily believe that a person should be rewarded for doing a good job.

I do believe that when you consistently do a great job, beyond your boundaries of your job description, you should be acknowledged. And even though it is 1996, most people don't understand the responsibilities of most women today. I am speaking for myself, of course, and for most women I have met and for my friends who have careers and maintain a household. Whether single or married, women still carry most of the workload, whether it by physical or psychological. If you should even decide to run a similar article, I would like to recommend another woman I believe is worthy of being written about. She is Mrs. Terri L. Green, Postmaster of the Waveland Post Office. She is one of the most dedicated people I have ever seen.

She is dedicated not only to her career and employer, but moreover to the people she has been selected to serve. A lot of people may say that she "spoils" her customers. This is not an accurate description of what she does. She sincerely she possibly can. She has served the Postal Service for 20 years. The last five of which she has been postmaster of the Waveland office.

believes and practices in giving the best and accurate service

If you should have any questions, you can ask any resident of Waveland, or you could ask her clerk, me. I have worked for Mrs. Green for the past four years on and off. I have seen her stay at work till 11 at night to track down a piece of mail that was vital to a customer.

I have seen her come to work with a full-blown case of the flu, wrapped in a blanket, to ensure that an inexperienced clerk not be nervous or give out the wrong information to the customer.

I could most definitely write more, but I truly believe if would be worth your time to see for yourself how the Waveland Post Office operates.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is a priceless gift that cannot be bought or sold, but its value is far greater than a mountain made of gold.

For gold is cold and lifeless. It can neither see nor hear, and in the time of trouble it is powerless to cheer.

It has no ears to listen, no heart to understand. It cannot bring you comfort, or reach out a helping hand.

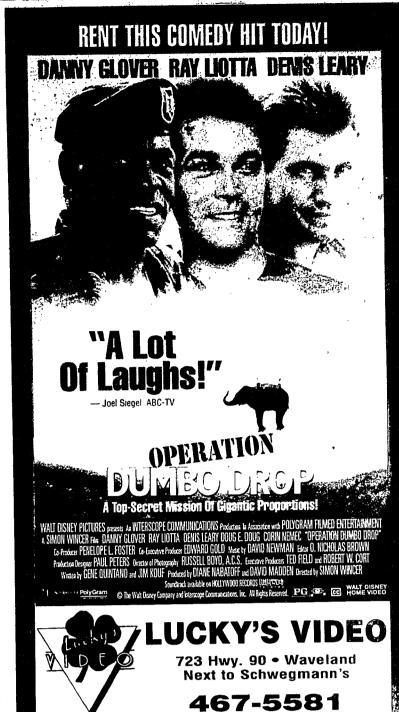

So when you ask God for a gift, be thankful if he sends not diamonds, pearl, or riches, but the love of real true friends.

Sunday, March 24, 10 a.m., is Friendship Day at the Diamondhead Community Church. Bring a friend and join your friends to begin a beautiful day.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE To get the full value of joy, you must have someone to divide it with.

BSLLT brings 'Our Town' to town

Ted Stechmann was more or less a youngster when he appeared in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre production of "Our Town" in 1957. He's directing the reprisal of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer-prizewinning play for the theatre's 50th anniversary season.

It's a work of love for the Bay
St. Louis resident who grew up performing on the Boardman Ayenue Playhouse stage.

Stechmann has assembled a group of seasoned veterans as well as several talented new-comers for the classic American play about life in small-town America at the turn of the century.

"Our Town" opens at 8 p.m. Friday and continues on Saturday, March 29 and 30. Tickets are $7.50 at the door.

During Act I, the audience will become acquainted with the people who inhabit Grover's Corner, N.H. In Act II, you will watch George Gibbs and Emily Webb fall in love and marry. Act III brings sorrow, acceptance, hope and rejuvenation.

Well-known thespian Martin Booda appears in the pivotal role of "stage manager." Kelly Roth and Shay Coss play the young lovers.

Other cast members are Clem Acker, Elaine Glover, Tabitha Wilkinson, Gene Farve, Jack Ohman, Derek Stechmann, John "J.T." Taylor, Glenda Coss, Al Carlson, Edith Back, Noel Gillan, Ed Craig, Bobby Shubert, Jeremy Rhodes, T. H. "Doc" Toups, Margie Toups, Sandy Reese and Beth Stechmann.

Betty Stechmann and Carol Kerr are co-producers and set designers for the Bay St. Louis production. Supporting crew members include Derek Stechmann, lights and sound; Robert Coleman, lighting consultant; Pette Leach and Sherry Evans, properties; and Dena Bisnette, costumes.

Get ready for migrating birds

Get ready for a spectacular show of colorful birds coming soon to a forest or feeder near you. The spring migration of birds is under way, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

March, April and May are peak months for migrating land and shorebirds returning to places like Mississippi and other parts of the United States to nest and breed," said David Watts, editor of Mississippi Outdoors magazine.

"Called 'neotropical migratory birds,' these species spend the winter in places like Mexico, Central and South America, and the Caribbean, then return to this country to raise their young," Watts explained.

Watts said that purple martins, one of the most popular birds in the Magnolia State, began showing up in early February when the males begin arriving on the breeding grounds.

"Already, ruby-throated hummingbirds, one of our earliest returning migrants, has been seen in many spots around Mississippi. They were reported in early March in Wilkinson County," Watts said.

Woodlands around lakes and reservoirs are good places to see colorful warblers, vireos, flycatchers and tanagers, Watts said.

"The oxbow lakes such as Albermarle and Chotard along the Mississippi River are my favorite spots to see the brilliant yellow and green prothonotary warbler," Watts said.

"At this time of year, mud

"At this time of year, mud flats exposed along lake and reservoir shorelines are excellent locations that attract shorebirds such as plovers and sandpipers. Birders in these areas should be prepared with a pair of binoculars or a quality spotting scope to enhance their enjoyment of these species."

A person's backyard can be a good place to see migrating birds in early spring.

"A homeowner enhances his chances of attracting migrating birds if he has bird feeders offering several types of seed and a source of water," Watts said.

INTRODUCING MEMORIAL

(left) Medical Director and neonatologist Dr. Clinton B. White is proud of the 11-bed NICU which has two isolation beds for babies with viruses or other contagious diseases: 10 neonatal vital sign monitors; and five state-of-the-art ventillators which deliver oxygen in synchrony with a baby's own breathing.

You've had good prenatal care. so you assume you'll have a healthy, full-term baby, but some things, such as the incidence of premature labor, just don't show up in prenatal examinations. Now, because of advanced technology and staffing expertise, a neonatal intensive care unit, known as NICU, can spell survival for seriously ill newborns. It is a vital part of many obstetrical units-so significant, in fact, that many obstetricians won't admit patients to a hospital without one. Until Memorial opened its NICU—the only NICU in a civilian hospital on the Mississippi Coast—babies who required special care had to be transported to Jackson, New Orleans or Mobile. Now, those little ones and their parents can stay close to home, helping the entire family to become actively involved in the care of the infant. Memorial's NICU has a medical staff of three neonatologists and its nurses average eight-ten years' experience. Other health professionals, such as respiratory therapists with neonatal expertise. are also a part of the NICU. Within a few months, Memorial's NICU will have transport capabilities which will mean babies from other Coast hospitals can be easily and safely moved to Memorial for neonatal care.

Forrest products, printing and publishing are state's largest manufacturing groups

The number of manufacturing firms in Mississippi totals. 3,670, according to the 1996 Mississippi Manufacturers

The Register, published each March by Manufacturers' News Inc., Evanston, Ill., reports detailed information about manufacturers in 301 Mississippi cities and towns that contain at least one industrial Jackson heads the manufacturing community with 321 plants, listed in the 1996 Mississippi Manufacturers Register. Tupelo ranks second with 150 manufacturing establishments, while third-ranked Gulfport lists 110. Meridian ranks fourth with 99 manufacturers, followed by fifth-ranked Hattiesburg with 94, as reported in the 1996 edition.

More than half the Register's manufacturers fall within five industries. Lumber and wood products comprise the largest Mississippi industrial group with 473 manufacturing establishments. Printing and publishing ranks as the second largest manufacturing category with 423 such plants in the database, while industrial machinery and equipment firms with 390 related plants ranks third.

Metal fabricating is the fourth largest industrial group with 318 firms. Fifth-ranked apparel and fabric products has 306 such firms listed in the 1996 edition. Combined. the five categories total 52.05 percent of the plants listed in the 1996 Mississippi Manufacturers Register.

The 1996 data in book format is divided into five primary sections: alphabetically by name and by product, city, SIC and parent company. A sixth section contains county/city breakdowns for Mississippi along with city, county and industry growth pattern charts. County, zip code and area code maps are included as well.

The 264-page Register contains detailed profiles of all 3,670 industrial plants located in 301 Mississippi cities. Each profile provides up to 30 facts, including address, phone and fax numbers, product(s) manufactured, names and titles of key executives (7,456 throughout the entire database), area of distribution, annual sales, number of employees, brand names and year established.

The 1996 data in diskette format allows the user to select prospects using up to 13 criteria, including company name, area code, zip code, SIC, sales volume, number of employees, product description and more. In addition, Manufacturers'

News Electronic Products Department can prepare custom lists using selection criteria provided by the user.

Manufacturers' New Inc., Evanston, Ill. has been gathering and publishing industrial information since 1912. In addition to Mississippi, the company compiles and publishes manufacture directories for 26 other states.

The casebound 1996 Mississippi Manufacturers Register in book format is available for $63 and information on diskette from $175 to $.75 from Manufactuers' News Inc., 1633 Central St., Evanston, IL 60201, 847-864-7000.

As the highway changed to four lanes from Highway 90 to the Stennis Drive, the personnel of some 20 Mississippi Department of Transportation (DOT) trucks were busy install-

SCI Inc., the contractor for the project, which began on Oct. 1992, placed flagmen at strategic crossings to warn motorists of the four lanes being opened.

State troopers' flashing blue lights could be seen as motorists were stopped for various violations.

Kenny said, "Between 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. Tuesday, some 146 tickets were issued by state troopers. The citations were for speeding, DUIs, improper equipment, wreckless driving, careless driving, improper headlights, 'etc."

"Just from 6 to 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, two troopers issued 50 more citations," Kenny said. "Additional State Troopers are on line patrol 24 hours a day on Highway 603 from U.S. 90 at Nicholson Avenue to the Stennis Airport Drive," Kenny said. They just continue to make the of Pass Christian experienced a near complete loss of water pressure during a hard freeze in February. Engineers said a small water pressure sensing tube froze up at the central control well and prevented the city's other wells from functioning.

The Mayor said heat from a large light bulb might have prevented the controls from freezing in the shedhouse.

McDonald said he still intends to oust ECO, but he needs to get a feel on how many people he will need to put the billings and collections "under the city umbrella."

And, he wants to know how much it will cost to add the employees to the city payroll.

In the meantime, another survey will be made to appraise the value of existing equipment, and determine exactly what equipment the city might need to keep, McDonald said.

The mayor said he would like to let the contract for monitoring and maintenance to a local firm, and he would have recommendations within 90 days.

McDonald also said he was still awaiting word from Harrison County District Attorney Cono Carana on the fate of Johnny Walters, the city's Director of Public Works.

Walters has admitted using city road crews to cut and haul lumber from city right-of-ways, and sell the timber to a lumber dealer in Saucier.

He said he used the funds from the sales of the timber to throw two parties for city employees. If Carana returns the matter back to city officials, McDonald and the Board of Aldermen have the option of firing Walters or suspending him without pay for a period of time, and they could require him to pay back the money spent on the two parties.

City officials say the need to adopt a plan is urgent -- it's a mandatory first step to the adoption of a new zoning ordinance that will include zoning for the newly annexed casino area and adjoining Cedar Point

In addition, city officials hope to devise an historic preservation ordinance, and revise outmoded, inadequate provisions in the existing zoning text.

Thriffiley, in a workshop session Monday, urged the mayor to appoint a commission that will ultimately oversee enforcement of the historic preservation ordinance. He said the commission could be instrumental in helping shape the new ordinance.

The mayor, however, was obviously frustrated at the suggestion from Thriffiley that a preservation commission be put in place before the comprehensive plan is finalized. "We can't even do a plan. Why are you worried about a damn historic preservation ordinance?" the mayor said.

Meanwhile, Scianna pictured the upcoming council work session as a comical attempt by five council members to draft a comprehensive plan: "Can you imagine the five of us with a map, trying to design a plan for Bay St. Louis?" he asked.

HANCOCK COUNTY WELCOME CENTER Thursday, March 21 - 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This copy of an antebellum home, opened in 1979 at the junction of I-10 and State Highway 607, has been rightfully called "the most beautiful Hospitality Center in the U.S.A." Interior appointments and paintings, as well as the handsome staircase, carry through the "antebellum" theme.

MR. & MRS. FREDERICK MAY

23441 Arcadia Farm Road. The May home is a 6,000 sq. ft. Country French house surrounded by 75 beautifully landscaped acres. A bricked screen porch overlooking 900 sq. ft. of Bayou Potash is a favorite place for entertaining. The house is decorated throughout in Country French. The dining room walls are a pale gold hue with white crown molding. The table and chairs are white burled wood with turquoise cushions on the chairs. Ellis Gould prints are hung over a wrought iron serving table. The kitchen cabinets are bleached ash with Corian tops and pale peachy beige tile floors. Grape vines are hand painted on the white wall tiles. The ceilings throughout this home vary from 9 to 15 feet. Daisies are used in one daughter's bedroom against a background of white. The ceiling is sky blue with soft, hand painted clouds. A pool and a guest home complete this picture perfect home. Brightly colored whimsical fish throughout the guest house were painted by Mrs. May's mother. Noon - 3 p.m.

MR. & MRS. JOSEPH L. LAUGHLIN

22451 Fox Run. The exterior of this pink and white house has a French Provincial flavor. Inside, soft rose walls, wide white crown molding and wood floors are the setting for country elegance. An Oriental rug and white marble fireplace complete the picture in the family room. A custom built entertainment center and bookcase/computer center are the work of local artisan Peter McArthur. A sun room across the rear of the house is painted a shell pink and poetry is written on the walls in large, bold print, giving one the feeling of words written in the sand. The kitchen cabinets are dusty beige and match the glazed Italian tile floor. A dining room with green and white antiqued walls and sheer white curtains has an Italian bookcase in which the family silver is displayed. Noon - 3 p.m.

LT. COL. & MRS. HARRY O. EVERS

102 Palm Avenue. Entering this home one is surrounded with tones of cream and off white anchored by carpeting of dusty rose. Mrs. Evers, a very fine artist, chose these colors to serve as a background for her paintings and murals. Two Chinese screens over the sofa were brought from China by Col. Evers when he accompanied President Nixon to China as Chief of Communications to open trade with that country. The dining room chairs, 1840 Jacobean, were use in a William Powell movie. Chandeliers were beaded by Mrs. Evers, as was the wall mural. A mural of the Pass Christian Harbor, by Mrs. Evers, covers one wall of the master bathroom. There is an artistic blending of contemporary and antique furnishings with mirroring and greenery that gives one the feeling of openness. Noon - 3 p.m.

MR. & MRS. CHARLES RAMSEY

845 Scenic Drive. This 20,000 sq. ft. home is reputed to be the largest in Mississippi. The home was built in 1964 for J. Edgar Monroe. (Monroe also owned the home in which "The Great Gatsby" was filmed in Rhode Island.) The original house was approximately 10,000 sq. ft. The Ramseys added two wings. The Ramseys have three children and four grandchildren, all of who live with them. Each family has their own entrance and living quarters complete with kitchen, baths, bedrooms and living rooms. The home has a total of 19 full and half baths, three kitchens and 15 bedrooms. One of the highlights is the beautiful curving stairway in the foyer. Open 3-4:30 p.m. Tea will be served. But with the help of slick mage building and savvy marketing, the NBA has become the most viable of the major sports, even a notch above the image-conscious NFL.

So it was with great concern and anguish the league viewed the antics of Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf and Dennis Rodman during the past 10 days. Abdul-Rauf, Chris Jackson in his prefuslim days whose hardwood izadry delighted fans at Gulfport High School and LSU, aused a rift when he refused to stand during the National Anthem, which is a league poliy. Abdul-Rauf cited religious beliefs as his reason for his actions. Rodman is the league's resident enigma, a malcontent who nas skirted sanity since his championship days in Detroit. Over the weekend, Rodman sweepstakes.

His religious assertion is implausible since Hakeem Olaiuwon is of the same faith, and has never displayed such childish behavior. Olajuwon, who fasts for one month of the season for religious reasons, should be a Muslim role model for Abdul-Rauf.

The Nugget guard claims the American flag stands for oppression. Certainly, not all is right in the United States, but the fact that Abdul-Rauf can make such a statement and still cash lottery-sized checks while reveling in a lifestyle only most can dream about speaks volumes.

Stern acted appropriately when he suspended the troubled Abdul-Rauf. Abdul-Rauf, who suddenly found himself $30,000 lighter, quickly reevaluated his stance, and not surprisingly, agreed to abide to the league policy regarding the National Anthem. It is to Stern's credit he handled a potentially ticklish situation with such diplomacy. The NBA may have been too lenient in its handling of Rodman, who once questioned the sexuality of every American male. The Chicago forward was suspended for six games, which may cost his team a record 70

But the suspension should have been greater. Without rules, and without referees to enforce those rules, sports would become anarchic.

There can be no reasonable explanation for Rodman's outlandish conduct. But reason is not often linked with Rodman, he of the tatoos and dyed hair.

What a pity that the greatest rebounder the game has ever seen will be remembered more for his off-court malfeasance.

The NBA will go on, with or without the likes of Abdul-Rauf or Rodman. But at least by disciplining the two, the league sent a message that, although non-conformity will be tolerated, any behavior percieved as detrimental to the league will

Bay Breeze takes title

The U-12 Bay Breeze girls soccer team won first place in the 1996 Rush Classic soccer tournament held last weekend 12 Meridian.

They beat the Brandon Flash 4-0, Meridian Hurricanes 2-1 and the Laurel-Jones Hurricanes 7-0 to advance to the championship game. A 2-0 shutout over the Pearl Thunder earned them the title.

In the first half of their season, the Bay Breeze posted a record of eight wins and no loses. They participated in the Camellia Cup Tournament in

In that event, they defeated Baton Rouge 3-1, LaFayette 5-1, and Lakeview 4-0 to earn a spot in the finals where they lost to Carrolton 3-1 to finish in second place.

In their second half season, the girls have a record of seven wins, one tie and no loses.

They took part in the Great Day of Soccer, earning first place overall for their team. They also had six girls win individual honors; Ashley Chrisman, eighth; Kara Harsharger, seventh; Sky Thomas, sixth; Mikki Kenny, fifth; Bethany Breland, third; and Emily Meyer, first.

The team, which is coached by Lori Chrisman and assisted by Mark Turner, is currently preparing for the district tournament, which will be held in April at Ocean Springs.

Waveland resident to go racing

BY RICHARD MEEK Vacation is often a time to load up the family jalopy and head to parts unknown for a week of leisure and respite away from the boss.

For Buckie Caspolich Jr., however, vacation is the thrill of going from zero to 170 miles per hour in a matter of seconds. Caspolich, the manager of Guy's Goodyear Tire and Auto Supply in Waveland, spends his off time drag racing.

Caspolich's racing season begins in earnest this weekend at State Capitol Dragway in Baton Rouge, La. Next weekend, it's off to Houston for a nationally televised race. He said he plans to run anywhere from 10 to 15 National Hot Rod Association sanctioned races through the summer and fall.

Caspolich grew up in a racing family. While many dads took their kids fishing, Caspolich was tailing both his dad and uncle to area dirt and oval tracks, and even boat races when they were racing at Cedar Point in Bay St. Louis. Caspolich's uncle, Joe Caspolich, is a member of the NASCAR Hall of

"I've been racing since I was 17," the 40-year-old Caspolich said. "Racing has always been in my family.

"It's an expensive hobby, but my wife (Tangy) is real understanding.

Caspolich is a renegade of sorts, the only Caspolich to have made the switch from oval racing to dragsters. Caspolich said his love affair with drag racing began 10 years ago when car owner Richard Stevens introduced him to the dragsters.

"(Stevens) let me drive his," the personable Caspolich said. "I enjoyed it and figured I had to get one."

"I like drag racing better because it's easier to go faster," he added. "I enjoy when you first take off, and you're traveling 60 feet in just over a second. It's adrenalin, it's a high."

Caspolich is a throwback to the simpler times of auto racing, long before multi-million dollar sponsors ruled the sport with their deep pockets. He builds the cars himself at a garage at his home, with his own money and tools. He figures he has about $100,000 tied up in his current car, including two motors, and a 48-foot trailer.

Caspolich admits, however, he is at a disadvantage when competing against drivers with sponsors.

"Some guys do this for a liv-ing," he said. "I don't race every weekend."

Despite the uneven playing field, Caspolich enjoyed mod-

Schonewitz hangs in for win

Billy Joe Schonewitz started the night at Sun Coast Speedway in Pass Christian by setting a new Late Model Sportsman track record with a 14.79 qualifying lap. This placed him on the pole position in his Arts Automotive-powered number Mitchell Williams started alongside Schonewitz in what appeared to be a real shoot-out, but as the green flag flew, another car brought out a caution before a lap had been completed.

As the nine-car field circled under caution, Schonewitz lost a left rear wheel, but was able to pit and get back out in time to fall in on the rear for the restart.

Williams claimed the lead as Schonewitz worked his way through traffic, but once gain the left rear came off. Fortunately another yellow flew, allowing Schonewitz to pit and replace his wheel.

On the restart, Williams lost his accelerator pedal momentarily, allowing Verlon Lee to move past for the lead. Schonewitz was once again making a move to the front when Williams and Lee hung together coming out of turn four causing a caution to come out.

Williams was charged with the caution, sending him to the rear while moving Lee to the front. Lee was unable to hold off Schonewitz, but held on to second as Williams worked his way back to third as the checkers came out. Tracy Brown and Timmy Stevens won earlier heat races in this division.

Jamie Luzenberg and Bubba McQueen shared the front row in the Pro Stock class, as both showed off their new edition for the 96 season. McQueen moved to the front on the start with Luzenberg in second, but as the race moved toward the midway point, the two made contact in turn four allowing Luzenberg to move to the front.

Wallace Allen was busy working his way through traffic along with Rodney Bruce as McQueen made contact with another car, allowing Allen to move into second. As McQueen and Bruce entered turn one, contact was made sending both airborne over the back, with McQueen's car landing upsidedown in a drainage ditch. Fortunately neither driver was hurt, but McQueen's car sustained heavy damage.

Bruce was able to stay in the race, but fell victim to a flat tire. Jay Ladner moved into the third spot behind Luzenberg and Allen as the race ended. Heat wins went to Jeremy Broadus and Wallace Allen. Randy Randell started alongside pole sitter Marus Jacob as the Four Cylinder Modified feature got underway. Randell moved to the front followed by Jacob. but as the race progressed last week's winner, Kalif Sellier, worked his way toward the front and was able to claim the lead as the checkers flew. Randell held on to second with heat winner Jacob finishing Street Stock saw last week's winner, Randy Sexton go flagto-flag for the win, but later fell victim to the tech man and was disqualified.

This moved Eddie Willis, Bill Stewart and Chuckie Smith into the top three. Michael Williams and Scott Stealman both claimed heat wins in the class.

Ralph Nielson, last week's winner in the Rookie Division, also was a victim of the tech man as he failed to clear after finishing first in the feature. This moved heat winner Jason Kilpatrick into the top spot, followed by Mark Millett and Jeff

Since turkey hunters are usually heavily camouflaged, make turkey calls to attract gobblers and wear no hunter orange, the chances of them being mistaken for turkeys are dramatically increased.

If you notice that a hunter is mistakenly sneaking up on you to shoot, the right reaction is important, Stewart said.

"Do not move, stop calling for turkeys and yell to let the hunter know of your presence," Stewart said.

The wildlife specialist recommended that hunters gently lay firearms down with the muzzle pointed away from anyone before crossing fences or other obstacles.

Always remember to point the muzzle of a gun in a safe direction and always unload your gun when you finish hunting.

Turkey season opens Mar. 23

Mississippi turkey hunters will have their day in the woods when the season gets under way March 23, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

The 40-day season closes May 1.

Last year, turkey hunters harvested more than 35,000 gobblers during the spring

"Back in the mid-1950s, hunters took fewer than 600 turkevs." said Bill Thomason, chief of game. "The success that hunters realize today is largely the result of our agency's successful turkey restocking program which began in the 1950s.

Conservation enforcement officials remind hunters to have a valid hunting license signed and on their person before going to the woods.

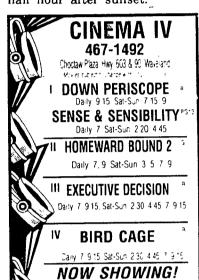

Officials also remind hunters that hunting turkeys over bait and/or with dogs, live decoys, or electrically or mechanically operated calling or sound repro-

Dr. George Hurst, professor in the department of wildlife days make for poor turkey hunt-'Swing' into Easter

Give your Easier bunny some extra time on the golf course this year and you'll also be helping fight lung disease, Mississippi's No. 3 killer. The Golf Privilege Card, or "The Lung Card" from the American Lung Association of Mississippi makes a great Easter gift, just in time for the spring season.

For $25, the Golf Privilege Card (actually a 60-page booklet) will entitle your favorite golfer to play over 600 golf courses throughout Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida at free or reduced greens fees. The card is valid from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, 1996.

"Every time a golfer purchases 'The Lung Car,' he or she tees off against lung diseases," said Robert Wills, president of the American Lung Association of Mississippi. "At only $25, the Golf Privilege Card is the best golfing bargain in Mississippi,' Wills said phone orders are welcomed at (800) 737-5453 or (601) 362-5453." VISA and MasterCard are accepted.

Gulf Islands National Seashore 25th anniversary

"The popular program, Passport to Your National Parks. features Gulf Islands National Seashore on its Southeast Regional stamp for 1996, announced Superintendent Jerry Eubanks.

"We are pleased Gulf Islands was chosen this year because we are celebrating the 25th anniversary of Gulf Islands National Seashore in 1996."

The photograph by NPS employee Michael Hobbs depicts an example of Gulf Islands' beautiful beaches with clear waters and gleaming white sand.

Authorized Jan. 8, 1971, Gulf Island's National Seashore was established to protect sandy beaches, coastal marshes, barrier islands, historic ruins, military fortifications and wildlife sanctuaries. It is the largest national seashore in the United States.

The 1996 stamp sheets and Passport books are available in the Eastern national bookstores at the visitors centers of Gulf Islands National Seashore. In Mississippi, the bookstore is located at the William M. Colmer Visitor Center in Ocean Springs. Cost of the passport book is $4.95 plus tax and cost of the stamp sheet is $3.95 plus tax.

The Eastern National bookstore at each visitor center has a wide variety of other educational and interpretive material on the natural and cultural history of Gulf Islands National Seashore and the surrounding area. Eastern National Park & Monument Association and the National Park Service introduced the Passport to Your Parks program 10 years ago to educate the public about America's national parks.

The program encourages visitation to as many parks as possible. This mission of the Passport program is achieved through passport books and commemorative stamps.

A sheet of ten new stamps and the Passport logo stamp are issued annually. This year's stamps include six National Park Service areas commemorating special anniversaries in 1996. The remaining four stamps recognize the life and beauty of islands, fossils and a real working farm.

The National stamp for 1996 features Mesa Verde National Park in southwestern Colorado. This park preserves one of the finest collection of prehistoric cliff dwellings in the United ing, but cold weather is OK." Hurst said Mississippi is one of the top four states in the nation in total numbers of turkeys and total numbers of gobblers harvested. Other leading states include Missouri, Alabama and Georgia.

The current population of turkeys in the state is about 300,000. The population has been stable or declining during the last five years.

"The population peaked in 1986, but then there were four successive years of poor hatches," Hurst said. "But in the northeast part of the state, the population has been increasing.

Hurst added that there are about 45,000 turkey hunters in Mississippi. They harvest about 40,000 turkeys each year.

The spring hunting season, which lasts until May 1, is only for gobblers, or male turkeys. Daily bag limits are one gobbler per person, with a spring season limit of three gobblers per Dean Stewart, MSU extension wildlife specialist, provided tips to distinguish between gobblers and hens.

"One of the main ways to tell between the two is by behavior," Stewart said. "The males will be gobbling, strutting and drum-ming to attract the hens."

Gobblers have a "beard" of black-tipped modified feathers in the center of their breast, are usually bigger than females, have spurs on their legs and have red and white coloring on their head, Stewart said.

Hens are smaller with lighter brown feathers and bluish coloring on their head. In rare cases, hens will have sparse beards.

HISTORY OF 306 HWY. 90 BAY ST. LOUIS, MS

This 73x137 building has been the beginning of numerous businesses in Bay St. Louis, First came the Bay Bowling Alley with Mrs. Yaryan and then Fred Cabell Next was a building supply with Dave McDonald. Then Bob Taconi ran hardware business for a number of years before moving further out. Next came Monti Electric for some years before moving. Dave McDonald operated a flooring business for approximately 15 years before retiring. Schultz Flooring Co. functioned for five years before moving and then the Public Library occupied the building for 15 months while remodeling and enlarging their headquarters. WHO'S NEXT?

That remains to be seen! CALL CC McDONALD
